

Dear Microbiology PhD students,

Join us for MicroNet 2025, a symposium designed to connect microbiology PhD students across universities and campuses. This ASM-endorsed event offers a chance to share your research, meet peers you might not otherwise encounter, and spark new collaborations in an informal, supportive setting.

Date: Wed November 5th

Time: 12:30–17:00

Location: Dam Auditorium, Mærsk Tower, Copenhagen

Audience: Microbiology PhD students in Denmark (and Sweden)

Sign up here: <https://tinyurl.com/MicroNet2025>

Program highlights:

- ⚡ 3-minute PhD pitch presentations
- ☕ Networking over snacks and coffee
- 🧠 Insights into science, methods & life as a researcher
- 🎓 Judges from academia offering feedback and inspiration

Whether you're just starting your PhD or nearing the finish line, this is a great opportunity to communicate your work, exchange ideas, and build community.

Hope to see you there!

Best wishes,
Team MicroNet 2025
